STORES IMPROVE PRICE ACCURACY DURING HOLIDAY SEASON BUT ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT REMAINS

ALSO: LISTING OF STORES RECENTLY CONVICTED OF OVERCHARGING

During this recent holiday season, weights and measures inspectors conducted undercover price accuracy inspections in 108 stores throughout Los Angeles County. With some exceptions, the stores visited were the same major retailers inspected three years ago in a survey to determine the level of price accuracy at local stores. The holiday survey was done to monitor the effectiveness of the Buyer Beware Program in keeping store management alert to price errors.

The Buyer Beware Program enhances consumer awareness through requirements to post consumer rights notices at all scanner equipped checkstands. Additionally, shoppers are alerted to stores' scanner accuracy violations, as well as their compliance, through postings at stores' entrances.

"There has been improvement. It is not all we had hoped, but the trend is in the right direction," said Kurt Floren, Director of Weights and Measures. "As seen before, many price errors resulted from leaving expired sales tags on items and incorrectly calculating advertised percent-off discounts," he continued. "Shoppers deserve accuracy, and there are still gains to be made."

	2001	2004
of Stores Inspected	108	108
of Stores with Overcharges	64	56
% of Items Overcharged (count)	11%	6%
% of Overcharge as Total Purchase (value)	3%	2%

The Department of Agricultural Commissioner/Weights and Measures levies administrative penalties and/or pursues prosecution of business operators found to be in violation. Listed below are recently adjudicated scanner overcharge cases:
